

Difference b/w

Functional English

Functional english is the use of english for a specific purpose. Such as academic study or career progression. Functional english provides the skills and knowledge needed to be confident and effective in life and work.

Examples

Greeting, Apologizing,
Introducing yourself,
Making a request

General English

General english is the use of english for everyday life, Such socialization. General English aims to improve overall language proficiency. General english is a loose term to used to describe the type of english required for everyday situations

English

common noun, proper nouns, Abstract noun.