

Cannabis Related Disorder

Fatima Shakeel

Diagnostic criteria

- To diagnose cannabis use disorder, a healthcare professional will assess the patient's behavior and experiences related to cannabis use, looking for at least two of the following criteria within a 12-month period:
 1. Cannabis is often taken in larger amounts or over a longer period than intended.
 2. Desire or unsuccessful efforts to cut down or control cannabis use.

Continued..

- 3. A great deal of time is spent in activities necessary to obtain, use, or recover from the effects of cannabis*.
- 4. Craving, or strong desire to use cannabis.
- 5. Recurrent cannabis use resulting in a failure to fulfill major role obligations at work, school, or home.
- 6. Continued cannabis use despite having persistent or recurrent social or personal problems caused or worsened by cannabis use.

Continued....

- 7. Giving up important activities in order to use cannabis.
- 8. Recurrent cannabis use in situations in which it is physically hazardous.
- 9. Continued cannabis use despite knowledge of having a persistent or recurrent physical or psychological problem that is likely to have been caused or worsened by cannabis use.
- 10. Tolerance (needing to use increasingly larger amounts to achieve the desired effect).

