

(i)

Importance of familiar and elevated writing?

Familiar and elevated writing both ~~are~~ hold significance in different contexts. Familiar writing is conversational and easy to understand, making it accessible to a broader audience. It can help establish a connection with readers and create a sense of readability.

On the other hand, elevated writing is more formal and sophisticated, often used literary words, academic papers or professional settings. It conveys a sense of authority and expertise and can be used to express complex ideas or emotions in a refined manner.

Both styles have their own merits and serve different purposes.

Familiar writing may be more engaging and approachable, while elevated writing can add depth and nuance to the content. The choice between the two depends on the intended audience, purpose of writing and desired tone or style.

~~(2)~~

How can you sell yourself (your qualifications and talent) in essay?

When writing an essay to sell yourself, your qualifications and talents, it's important to showcase your strengths and unique qualities in a compelling and persuasive manner. Here are some tips on how to effectively sell yourself in an essay.

→ Start with a strong introduction.

→ Highlights your accomplishments.

Showcase your skills and abilities

- Tell your story.
- Demonstrate your passion and motivation.
- Be authentic and genuine.
- Use persuasive language.
- Conclude with a strong closing

— (3) —

What is the importance of coming "full circle" in essay?

Coming full circle in an essay is significant as it provides a sense of closure and completeness to the reader. It involves revisiting and referencing the main ideas, themes or arguments presented in the introduction or body of the essay, but with a deeper understanding or new perspective.

By coming full circle, the writer can reinforce the main points of the essay and tie everything in a cohesive manner. It allows the reader to see how various parts of the essay connect and relate to each other, leading to satisfying conclusion. Additionally, coming full circle can enhance the overall impact of the essay by emphasizing the significance of the main idea and leaving a lasting impression on the reader. It can provide a sense of resolution, clarity and reflection, making the essay more memorable and impactful.

—(4)—

Importance/Develop the thesis statement in argumentative essay-

Developing a strong thesis statement is crucial in an argumentative essay as it serves as the central claim or arguments that you will be supporting throughout the essay. Here are some steps to help you develop a thesis statement for an argumentative essay.

DATE: _____

DAY: _____

- Identify the topic.
- Take a stance.
- Consider the countercarguments.
- Make it specific.
- Provide a rationale.
- Make it debatable.
- Revise and refine.

~~(5)~~

What is the use of transition words in the formation of paragraphs in essay & composition?

Transition words play a crucial role in the formation of paragraphs in an essay or composition by helping to establish connection between ideas, improve the flow.

DATE: _____

DAY: _____

of writing and guide the reader through the content.

Here are some key uses of transition words in paragraph formation:

→ Establishing coherence

→ Showing relationship

→ Introducing new ideas

→ Providing new emphasis

→ Summarizing or concluding

→ Maintaining the reader's interest

Overall, the use of transition words in formation of paragraphs in essay composition is essential for creating coherence, improving clarity and enhancing the overall structure and flow of writing.

(6)

What are the cohesive devices used in narrative essay?

Cohesive devices are important elements in narrative essays as they help connect ideas, maintain coherence and guide the reader through the story. Here are some common cohesive devices used in narrative essays:

- Pronouns: "he, she, it, they, you,"
- Demonstrative pronouns: "this, that, those, those-"
- Transition words: "meanwhile, suddenly, afterward, later, in the end, finally."
- Conjunctions: "And, but, or, because, while, so, yet."