

5- Medieval Christianity:-

Crusades and Byzantine Empire:-

1- The Crusades (1095-1291):- The crusades were a series of religious wars launched by western Christians, mainly to reclaim the Holy Land (Jerusalem) from Muslim control and to defend Christendom.

Key Crusades:-

First Crusades (1096-1099):- Called by Pope Urban II at the Council of Clermont (1095) it successfully captured Jerusalem.

Second Crusade (1147-1149):- A failed attempt to regain territory lost to Muslim.

Third Crusade (1189-1192):- led by Richard the Lionheart failed to recapture Jerusalem but allowed Christian pilgrims access.

Fourth Crusade (1202-1204):- Diverted from its goal and ended with the sack of Constantinople a Christian city deepening the divide btw East & West. Later Crusade were less successful and often politically motivated.

Impact of the Crusades:-

Strengthened Papal authority and religious zeal in Europe.

Deepened the East-West Schism between Roman Catholic and Eastern

Orthodox churches.

Stimulated trade and cultural exchange with the East (Byzantine & Islamic worlds).
Spread of military religious orders like the Knights Templar & Hospitallers.

2- The Byzantine Empire and Christianity:- The Byzantine Empire was the continuation of the Eastern Roman Empire with Constantinople as its capital. Its Christianity was Eastern Orthodox distinct from Roman Catholicism. The Emperor had strong influence over the Church (Caesaropapism) unlike in the west where the Pope held spiritual authority. Church of Hagia Sophia symbolized Byzantine Christian culture.

East - West Schism (1054):- Final Separation between Roman Catholic Church (West) and Eastern Orthodox Church (East).

Causes:- Disputes over papal authority, theology (Filioque clause) & cultural differences.
The Fourth Crusade's sack of Constantinople (1204) caused deep resentment in Byzantium.

Byzantine Role in Christianity:- Preserved early Christian traditions and theology.

Influenced Slavic Christianity especially through missionaries like Saint Cyril & Methodius.

Played a key role in Christian art, liturgy and monasticism.
