

Short Report:

A short report is a concise document that presents important information about a specific topic. It is brief, clear, and direct.

Key Points for Writing a Report:

Be clear and to the point.

Organize the report with headings and sections.

Include facts and data to support your points.

Keep the language simple and formal.

a) Sample Formal Report (Businessman):

Title: Expansion of Business into New Markets

From: [Your Name], Owner

To: Board of Directors

Date: [Today's Date]

Summary: This report explains the opportunity to expand our business into [New Region]. It highlights the benefits, such as increased revenue and market growth, and suggests that we conduct further market research before moving forward.

b) New Business Proposal:

Business Name: GreenTech Innovations

Business Idea: Offering eco-friendly home and office products, such as solar panels, energy-efficient appliances, and sustainable materials.

Proposal Outline:

1. Introduction: GreenTech Innovations aims to provide sustainable products for environmentally-conscious customers.
2. Market Research: The demand for green products is growing due to environmental awareness.
3. Product Line: Solar panels, energy-efficient lighting, and eco-friendly office supplies.
4. Business Plan: We plan to start with online sales and expand to physical stores in eco-friendly communities.
5. Budget: Initial investment required is $100,000 for inventory and marketing.

a) Congratulatory Letter to GM:

Dear [GM's Name],

I am writing to congratulate you on completing 25 successful years in the business. Your leadership and vision have been truly inspiring, and your efforts have significantly contributed to the company's growth. We look forward to continued success under your guidance.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

b) Report for GM on New Ideas:

Title: Need for Innovation to Boost Business

From: [Your Name], Marketing Manager

To: General Manager

Date: [Today's Date]

Summary: This report suggests new strategies to increase business, such as adopting new technologies, expanding online presence, and entering new markets. Implementing these ideas could lead to a 15% growth in revenue.

c) Job Application for Software Engineer:

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to apply for the position of Software Engineer at [Company Name]. I have a Bachelor's degree in Computer Science and 3 years of experience in software development, specializing in Python and Java. I am confident that my skills and experience make me a strong candidate for this role.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Q3. Define a Proposal:

A proposal is a document that suggests a plan or solution to a problem, with the goal of getting approval or funding.

Parts of a Proposal:

1. Introduction: Explains the purpose of the proposal.
2. Problem Statement: Describes the problem that needs to be solved.
3. Proposed Solution: Offers a plan to solve the problem.
4. Budget: Details the costs involved.
5. Conclusion: Summarizes the key points and benefits of the proposal.

Q4. Report on Decline in Toiletries Sales:

Title: Investigation into the Decline in Toiletries Sales

From: [Your Name], Sales Analyst

To: Marketing Manager

Date: [Today's Date]

Summary: Sales of toiletries have decreased due to increased competition and changing customer preferences. Recommendations include offering discounts and launching a new advertising campaign to attract customers.

Q3. Analytical Report on Deputy Manager Promotion:

Title: Performance Analysis for Promotion of Deputy Manager

From: [Your Name], Unit Head

To: HR Manager

Date: [Today's Date]

Summary: This report evaluates [Deputy Manager's Name] based on leadership, teamwork, and project success. Based on this analysis, I recommend the promotion due to their outstanding performance in managing projects and leading the team.

Q4. Follow-up Letter for Job Interview:

Dear [HR Person's Name],

I hope you are doing well. I am following up on my interview that took place on [Interview Date]. It has been over a month, and I have not yet received any updates. I would appreciate it if you could inform me of the decision.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Q3. Report on Personnel Turnover:

Title: Analysis of Personnel Turnover in Manufacturing Unit

From: [Your Name], HR Analyst

To: Financial Officer

Date: [Today's Date]

Summary: The high personnel turnover is due to low wages and limited opportunities for growth. I recommend reviewing salary packages and providing professional development programs to retain employees.

Q4. Define a Resume:

A resume is a document that highlights a person's work experience, education, and skills.

Parts of a Resume:

1. Contact Information

2. Objective/Professional Summary

3. Work Experience

4. Education

5. Skills

Q5. Report on Market Position of Food Products:

Title: Market Position of [Company Name]'s Food Products

From: [Your Name], Market Analyst

To: CEO

Date: [Today's Date]

Summary: This report shows that [Company Name] holds a strong position in the food market, but faces competition from new brands. Recommendations include improving product quality and introducing new flavors to attract more customers.

Resume Sample (BBA in Marketing):

Name: [Your Name]

Contact: [Your Email, Phone Number]

Objective: To obtain a marketing position where I can utilize my education and part-time experience in marketing consulting.

1) Education:

BBA in Marketing, [Business School Name], [Graduation Year]

Experience:

Marketing Consultant, [Company Name], Part-time [Year]

Assisted in developing marketing campaigns and analyzing market data.

Skills: Market research, Data analysis, Campaign management.

Cover Letter:

Dear Hiring Manager,

I recently graduated with a BBA in Marketing from [Business School Name], and I have gained part-time experience as a marketing consultant. I am passionate about using my skills to help businesses grow, and I am eager to bring my knowledge to [Company Name].

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

2) Business report and its good qualities?

A business report is a written document that provides information and facts about a specific business issue. It helps people understand the problem and make decisions based on the information.

Business Report Qualities:

A good business report is:

Clear and well-organized.

Based on facts and data.

Concise and to the point.

Includes recommendations based on analysis.