

LETTER WRITING

Every educated person should know how to write a clear and readable letter. Everyone sometimes has to write business letters and face writing a vital note that will vitally affect his life interests. Therefore, the art of letter-writing is no mere ornamental accomplishment but something that every educated person must acquire for practical reasons.

FORMS OF LETTERS

There are several different kinds of letters (such as friendly letters, business letters, etc.) each of which has its particular form; but there are certain matters of form which apply to all, and these are explained first.

In all kinds of letters there are six points of form to be attended to, namely:

The Heading consisting of (a) the writer's address and (b) the date

The Courteous Greeting or Salutation

The Communication or Message-The body of the letter

The Subscription, or courteous Leave-taking, or Conclusion

The Signature

The Superscription on the envelope

① THE HEADING

It informs the reader where you wrote the letter and when. The where (which should be the writer's full postal address) gives the address to which the reader may reply, and the when is for reference, as it gives him the date on which you wrote. The heading position is the top right-hand corner of the first page-the address above and the date just below it. The heading and the date may alternatively go on the left.

24 Umar Garden

Faisalabad 38000

January 10, 2021

The date may be written in any of the following ways:

4 January 2022 To a British person, this means the fourth of January.

6th January 2022 January; to an American, it means the sixth of January.

January 4, 2022 (Americans put the month before the day.)

② SALUTATION

The form of greeting will depend upon the relation in which you stand to the person you are writing. To members of your family, for example:

It will be ——— Dear Father, My dear Mother, Dear Uncle

To friends, it will be ——— Dear Tariq

To business people, it will be ——— Dear Sir, Dear Sirs, etc.

Abubaker's letter to his uncle thanking him for a gift

Umer Garden Faisalabad.

January 10, 2022

My dear Uncle,

I hope you will be in your best health. I received your kind parcel yesterday. I am very thankful to you for it. I celebrated my birthday the last Friday. I was greatly disappointed at your absence from the birthday party. However, I was incredibly delighted to receive the parcel from you the next day. I am pleased to receive from you the gift of a wristwatch. It is a beautiful watch. This beautiful watch is a token of love for me on your part. It is a precious gift for me. I assure you that I will make the best use of it.

Pay my compliments to Aunt and love to my cousins.

Yours affectionately,

(Name) X.Y.Z.

STANDARD PARTS OF A BUSINESS LETTER

A business letter is quite different from a private letter. The letter should be drafted in such a way as one can form idea content at a glance. The reader of a business letter is impressed not only by its contents alone its form and style. Often one likes to see a letter neatly typed or written with a certain balance in its parts and a certain symmetry in the way the letter is set out. Most of the business letters have eight pieces.

These parts are as under:

- | | |
|------------------|-----------------------|
| ① Heading | ② Date |
| ③ Inside address | ④ Salutation |
| ⑤ Body | ⑥ Complimentary close |
| ⑦ Signature | ⑧ Reference section |

① HEADING

Most companies use printed letterheads for writing messages. The paper contains name, address, phone numbers, fax, telex and email address. The heading tells where the letter has come from. It writes two inches below the top of the paper.

② DATE

The date is written in Month / Day / Year or Day / Month / Year. We should note the month in complete spelling as; 2 July, 2021 or July 2, 2022.

③ INSIDE ADDRESS

The full address of the person or the organization we address is written two spaces below the dateline. If we are reporting on our own, we should note the receiver's full name courtesy of Mr Miss or Mrs Sometimes; we write titles like a doctor, sheikh, etc. After the word, we write professional title or status, the name of the organization comes in second line and address in the third. When we address a firm, "Messer's" is used before the name, e.g.

TYPES OF COMMUNICATION

There are two types of communication

- ① Verbal Communication
- ② Non-verbal Communication

① VERBAL COMMUNICATION —————

The communication which takes place in the form of words is called verbal communication. The primary medium of this kind is an oral presentation of ideas, feelings and information to another person with language. Thus, it refers to the use of sounds and language to relay a message. It serves as a vehicle for expressing desires, ideas and concepts.

SPOKEN AND WRITTEN COMMUNICATION

Let us see the fundamental difference between spoken and written communication; whether you communicate in writing will depend on the circumstances and extent of the person you are addressing. There are many reasons for communicating orally and communicating in writing, as well. Both have some advantages and disadvantages.

ORAL COMMUNICATION

- It is the fastest form of communication.
- It saves time and money.
- It is a more effective communication system.
- Gestures, tones and facial expressions make it more effective.
- It allows immediate feedback from the audience.
- The success of communication can measure rapidly and conveniently.
- It helps in improving the motivation of people.
- It is beneficial in case of an emergency or any other calamity.

DEMERITS

- It has a documentary, as this communication has a purely temporary impact.
- Where a lengthy message is required, oral communication is not suitable.
- Serious thought is not possible as a receiver has to make a rapid decision.
- In it, there is no time to think and act thoughtfully.
- There is every possibility that spoken words do not hear or understand.
- Sometimes oral communication is time-consuming in meetings and conferences.

WRITTEN COMMUNICATION

- The written communication process has the quality of getting stored for future reference.
- When the receiver and sender are at distant points, this type is the only means.
- Written communication gives more time to the receiver for a response.
- It provides enough time for to receiver to think about a specific action.

Person
Mr. Ali Ahmad, Director,
Ahmad International
Lahore.

Organization
Messer's Afzal & Co.
Shah Alam Market,
Lahore.

2 SALUTATION

Salutation means greeting the receiver. It is written two spaces below the inside address. The choice of greeting depends on the relationship between the sender and the receiver. If the connection is highly formal, we use 'sir' or 'madam', whereas we may write in less formal relations. "My dear" Mr Ali, or Dear Sir, Dear Madam. We salute our friends as, Dear Ali, or My dear Ali. When we address firms, we write 'Dear Sirs' or 'Dear Madams' if it is a women organization. Sometimes words like, Dear Member, Dear Reader etc., are also used to salute.

However, the standard forms, according to the degree of formality, are these:

	For Men	For women
Most Formal:	Sir,	Madam,
Formal:	My dear Sir,	My dear Madam,
Less Formal:	Dear Sir,	Dear Madam,
Friendly:	My dear Dr. Naeem	My dear Mrs. Ali,
	Dear Mr. Ali	Dear Miss Kiran,
Friendly:	My dear Anwar	Dear Kiran,
	Dear Naeem

3 BODY

The body is the main message, information or news that a receiver gets from the sender. It starts two spaces below the salutation. There is double space between paragraphs. Leadings are never used in short letters. The body organizes according to the nature of the message. Usually, it has three paragraphs. The first paragraph has the main idea and reference to any correspondence, the second paragraph gives explanations and the third paragraph states the desired action.

4 COMPLIMENTARY CLOSE

The complimentary close is a courteous leave-taking, or a polite way to end a letter. It is typed two spaces below the last line of the body. The closing must agree with the salutation, for example.

Salutation	Close
Sir,	Yours obediently, or Yours faithfully, or Yours respectfully,
Dear Sir,	Yours truly, or Yours sincerely,
Dear Ali,	Yours,

SIGNATURE

A signature is the signed name of the sender. Letters are always signed in ink. After signature, a name with courtesy title and the professional title is typed, two spaces below the close.

REFERENCE SECTION

This section provides information about composer, typist or computer directory etc. These names appear two spaces below the name in the form of initials.

⑤ BODY OF THE LETTER

It is, of course, the letter itself, and the style in which it writes will depend upon the kind of letter you wish to report. The type of a letter to an intimate friend will be very different from that of a purely business letter or official communication.

Divide your letter into paragraphs, to mark changes of Subject-matter, etc.

Use simple and direct language and short sentences.

Try to be complete and think out what you want to say before you begin to write.

Put down your points in some logical order.

Use the punctuation marks at the right place of sentence.

⑥ THE SUBSCRIPTION

A letter must not end abruptly, simply with the writer's name. It would look not polite. So certain forms of courteous leave-taking are prescribed. Such as-

Yours sincerely, Your sincere friend, Yours faithfully, etc. Yours affectionately

⑦ THE SIGNATURE

It must come below the Subscription. Thus:

Yours sincerely, Sheikh Asif Hussain

The signature should be clearly written to strangers.

⑧ THE ADDRESS

The address on the envelope or postcard should be written clearly, like this. For example:

Prof. Ch. Tariq Javed

Umar Garden

Faisalabad

October 4, 2021

CLASSIFICATION OF LETTERS

Letters may be classified according to their different purposes. Thus, ^{Informal} social letters include friendly letters and notes of invitations. ^{Formal} Business letters include letters of application, letters to government officers and letters to newspapers. These letters have different characteristics which must be considered.

① SOCIAL/FRIENDLY LETTERS

(Letters to relations and intimate friends should be written in an effortless, conversational style. They are really of the nature of friendly chat, and, being as a rule unpremeditated and spontaneous compositions, they are informal and free-and-easy compared with essays.) Just as in pleasant talk, so in friendly letters, we can touch on many subjects and in any order we like, and we can use colloquial expressions that would be entirely out of place in formal essays. But this does not mean that we can be careless and slovenly in dashing off our letters; for it is insulting to ask a friend to decipher a badly-written, ill-composed and con-scrrawl, so we must take some care and preserve some order in expressing our thought.

NON ESSENTIAL PARTS OF A BUSINESS LETTER

If a sender thinks suitable, he may use any or all of the following optional parts in his letter.

- Attention line
- Subject line
- Enclosure
- Copy notation
- File number or mailing notation
- Postscript

① ATTENTION LINE

If we want to send our message directly to some person or department, we use an attention line. It is typed two spaces below the inside address. It is written only when the address is an impersonal one, nor an office position. If, for example, the inside address is: Al-Murad Electronics, Circular Road, Faisalabad, the attention line will appear like this:

Al-Murad Electronics,
Circular Road,
Faisalabad.
Attention: Mian Saim

② SUBJECT LINE

The subject line tells the reader what is the message all about. The subject of the letter is written indented or with left margin two spaces below the salutation. The subject should be stated in a lengthy message only. On a short note, it is unnecessary. There is no full stop at the end of a subject because it is not a sentence. For example:

Dear Sir,
Subject: Installation of gas plant

③ ENCLOSURE

Enclosure notation tells the reader that the letter has some enclosed material with it. The enclosure is typed single space below the reference. It is usually written as under:

Enclosure: or
Encl: or
End: 3 certificates

④ COPY NOTATION

This part tells the reader who else than the addressee has received the copy of this letter. These persons' names are written as 'cc' or "copy" just below the reference or enclosure.

Copy Corban

⑤ FILE / ACCOUNT NUMBER

The file's name, account number or mailing notation is given just below the dateline.

⑥ POSTSCRIPT

Sometimes the sender writes something he wants to add to the message or repeats some important point after enclosure, e.g. Ps: No claim is valid after the due date is over.

TYPES OF BUSINESS LETTER

There are many standard types of business letters. These letters are used for a specific purpose. The function and purpose of these letters are described as under.

① SALES LETTER

A sales letter is written to sell goods or services. It is designed to convince the reader to purchase a particular product or service in the absence of a salesman. It has been defined as "a form of direct mail advertiser sends a letter to a potential customer." It is highly specialised and its writing requires exceptional ability and experience. The various functions of sales letter are as follows:

PURPOSE OF SALES LETTER

Sales letters are a unique form of advertising aiming to sell a company's goods and services. Sales letters must arouse interest, sound convincing, create a desire and encourage the reader to take action. Write in an upbeat, effective style but don't be aggressive. Present advantages and benefits to the reader. In the letter's last paragraph, you must convince the reader to take the action you want him to take.

USES OF SALES LETTER

- ① There are various uses of the sales letter. These letters are helpful to build goodwill for the business. Moreover, through this letter, seasonal greetings and information about new stock are sent to the customers.
- ② The primary purpose of this kind of letter is to arouse the interest of the customer.
- ③ Sales letter produces inquires and interest to your customers.
- ④ Without attracting the customer, their attention cannot be achieved. The primary purpose of these letters is to get the attention of the customer.

PACE Electronics,
100 Hall Road,
Faisalabad.
Dear Sir,

Samsung (Pvt) Ltd.,
100, Peoples colony,
Faisalabad.
September 9, 2022.

We have good news for you that a team of our experts has developed a new brand of Samsung LED. It has several features and qualities. We guarantee you that it is the best of its kind available in the market. It has got a very fair name in the market because of its increase in demand. Its price is comparatively low than its competitors' brand of the same kind. But its quality is superior to others. We are sending you a catalogue and the price list.

If you wish to receive more information about our products, you can visit our website <https://www.samsung.com/pk/>. You can also contact me at the address given above or on the telephone number - 0567-1270-765.

Yours Truly
Sheikh Asif
Sales Manager

6 INQUIRY LETTER / Application

A letter in which something is asked about is called an inquiry/ enquiry letter. Inquiry letters are among the most common types of business letters. They play a vital role in starting, conducting and promoting business. The purchaser writes this type of letter to the goods to obtain the various information. These letters play a significant role in promoting and expanding business.

A letter of inquiry may be used for different purpose such as asking for information, price quotation, terms of payment, catalogue, services, special data etc.

TYPES OF INQUIRY LETTER

1. Solicited inquiry letter
2. Unsolicited inquiry letter

① SOLICITED INQUIRY LETTER

It is written as response to ad.

A solicited letter of inquiry is written in response to an advertisement from the employer. The applicant needs to become sure that a vacancy is lying vacant with the employer.

② UNSOLICITED INQUIRY LETTER

An unsolicited letter of inquiry is written for a job that the employer has not advertised. The chief advantage of writing an unsolicited letter is the possibility that it will not have to compete with other applications.

CHARACTERISTICS

An inquiry letter should have the following qualities:

- ① It should be brief.
- ② It should not have unnecessary and irrelevant details.
- ③ It should be complete to bring the desired result.
- ④ It should have everything the receiver needs to know.
- ⑤ It should have courtesy and politeness.
- ⑥ It should answer all questions asked.

Adv. likelihood that it will be considered on the merits without having to compete with other applications.

LETTER OF INQUIRY (SEEKING)

Sales Manager
Fine Stationers,
125, Aminpur Bazar,
Faisalabad.

Dear Sir,

We shall be highly obliged if you send us your quotations of office stationery and paper products with usual terms of business.

We may place a large order with you if your prices suit us. An early reply will be appreciated.

PACE Electric Mill,
5 Kilometer Jaranwala Road,
Faisalabad.
December 22, 2022.

Yours Truly,
Altat Ahmed
Purchase Manager

- For conforming to a decision made at phone
- For asking certain particular information
- For writing suggestions
- It should establish a system of accountability.

TYPES OF MEMOS

There are four types of memos. These are as follows:

- Information memo
- Problem-solving memo
- Persuasion memo
- Internal memo proposal

• INFORMATION MEMO

It is used to deliver or request information or assistance. Its first paragraph provides the main idea. Its second paragraph expands on the details. Its third paragraph outlines the action required.

• PROBLEM-SOLVING MEMO

It suggests a specific action to improve a situation. Its first paragraph states the problem. Its second paragraph analyzes the problem. Its third paragraph makes a recommendation. It includes not only the positive details but also the drawback of the matter.

• PERSUASION MEMO

It is used to encourage the reader to undertake an action. Its first paragraph begins with an agreeable point. Its second paragraph introduces the idea. Its third paragraph states benefits to the reader. Its fourth paragraph outlines the action required. Its fifth paragraph ends with a call to action.

• INTERNAL MEMO PROPOSAL

It is used to convey suggestions to the management. Its first paragraph states the reason for writing. Its second paragraph outlines the present situation and states the writer's proposal. Its third paragraph describes the advantages. Its fourth paragraph mentions and diffuses disadvantages. Its fifth paragraph ends with a call to action.

ADVANTAGES OF A MEMO

Due to its various advantages, memos are widely used in most organizations. It is a handy means of communication within an organization. It performs different functions. It has a significant number of advantages. These are as follows:

• SIMPLE

First of all, it should be mentioned that memos are very simple in form and easy to use. It establishes a system of accountability.

• ESTABLISH ANSWERABILITY

As memos are records of facts and decisions, they establish accountability.

Therefore, some organizations prefer to use memos even for small events and requests than telephone/verbal communication. It is used to make a record of policies or decisions.

③ TIME SAVING

As memos are written in very brief form, it saves valuable time. It takes less time to write a memo.

④ SPECIFIC

Perhaps the essential advantage of a memo is that it is to the point. Only the main message is written very briefly in a memo. It enables the office to maintain good business relationships.

⑤ RAPID

Memos ensure a quick and smooth flow of information in all directions. With memos exchanges, the busy executives and employees can interact with each other without disturbing their routine.

⑥ LESS COSTLY

Memos are also cost-saving. It is written in simple papers and can be transmitted very cheaply. Because of its hand to hand circulation within the organization, it is low-cost means of communication.

⑦ USEFUL

It is valuable and convenient to write and read the memo, as all heading like data, person etc., are usually printed in a standardized format. Memos take comparatively less time for writing, transmission and reading than letters. Thus, a memo plays a beneficial role in an organization.

⑧ NO FORMALITIES

No formality is maintained in a memo. Salutation and complimentary closing are also avoided form in a memo.

DISADVANTAGES OF A MEMO

As memos are used within an organization, their scope is limited. There are some limitations which are as follows:

① LIMITED SCOPE

The major demerit of memo is that its scope is limited. A memo cannot provide detailed information.

② LACK OF SECRECY

In the case of the memo, secrecy is not maintained. Thus secret messages cannot be transmitted through memos.

③ UNSUITABLE FOR EXTERNAL COMMUNICATION

Another shortcoming of memo is that it cannot use it for external communication.

✓ FORMAT OF APPLICATION

The Principal, _____

Govt. College, _____

(City) A.B.C. _____

Subject _____

Sir, _____

(Body) _____

Date:

روز	تاریخ	سال
15	06	2021

Yours sincerely,

Name _____

SAMPLE FOR AN APPLICATION

This application can be used for any job.

The Principal,

Govt. College for Boys,

Faisalabad.

Subject: Application for the post of _____

Sir,

This is in response to your advertisement in "The Pakistan Times" for the post of _____, that I submit my application. I feel confident that I possess the required qualifications and experience. I would be highly grateful to you if you kindly consider me for appointment against this post. It is brought to your kind notice that I am an _____ from University of the Punjab, Lahore. I enjoy good health. I bear a good moral character and conduct.

It is also brought to your kind notice that now-a-days I am working as _____. This is, however, a temporary post. Hence, I want to get a permanent job. I would be highly grateful to you if you kindly favour me with an interview.

(My C.V. and attested copies of my documents are enclosed.)

Yours obediently,

Name A.B.C.

 MEMO & MEETING MINUTES

A memorandum (plural: memoranda) is a short piece of writing generally used by an organization's officers for communicating among themselves. That is why it is also called an interoffice memorandum. The word "memorandum" means something that should be remembered or kept in mind.

A memorandum is a short piece of writing used by an organization's officers to communicate within the organization. The literal meaning of the word memorandum is a note to assist the memory. A memorandum is used for internal communication between executives and subordinates. It is never sent outside the organization.

Memorandum is usually brief written message from one person or department in a company to another person or department. The word memorandum has been derived from Latin word "memorare" means to be remembered.

THE ROLE OF MEMO

A memo plays a beneficial role in an organization. It ensures a quick and smooth flow of information in all directions. It also enables officers to maintain good business relationships. A memorandum or memo helps an organization communicate and share information relevant to people within the organization. While business letters allow members of an organization to communicate with people outside the organization, memos usually contain information that affects those within a particular organization. They enable members or departments within an organization to communicate and relay information. Memos frequently address a small or large group of people, but some of the notes you write may be intended for one person.

THE PURPOSE OF MEMO

Memos often share new information, like changes to schedules or benefits, or they may encourage the reader to take action, such as attend a meeting or use less paper. Your aim in writing a memo is similar to other professional correspondence: You want to quickly and effectively communicate your purpose to your reader.

The memo is written in easy language to understand the message of the writer. Its style is like that of reports: objective, a matter of fact and lucid. No attempt is made to make an emotional appeal to the reader to create a psychological impact on him. Plain and direct statements of facts are made to achieve all that is required. Memorandum comes from the Latin noun memorandum and has the same root as memorable. Memorandum serves several purposes and it may use it for any official communication.

These purposes are as under:

- For communicating and sharing information within the organization
- For conveying scheduled messages
- For submitting periodical reports
- For communicating changes in an organization
- For issuing instruction to the staff

PUNCTUATION STYLES

When it comes to writing a business letter, you have three primary styles to choose from. The first, known as closed punctuation, requires the strict use of traditional punctuation, such as a colon after the salutation. The second open punctuation is a much more relaxed way of writing. In the third standard punctuation, no line of heading or inside address is punctuated, but a comma is used after the salutation and complimentary close.

OPEN PUNCTUATION

This style requires that no punctuation be used after any part of the letter except the message. It is often used with full-blocked arrangements as both styles are considered time-savers for the typist. Open punctuation has no punctuation after the salutation or complimentary closing, no commas in the addressee's address and no periods after abbreviations:

The President of the United States
Washington DC

Dear Mr Bush

Sincerely yours

WHEN TO USE

Most commonly, open punctuation is used for business and cover letters, but only when it is specifically indicated that open style is preferred. When writing such a letter, don't include commas in any of the addresses, dates or titles of individuals. Omit the comma after the salutary greeting -- as in "To Whom It May Concern" -- with no comma or colon afterwards. If you're writing a business or cover letter in an open style, use block style -- don't indent any of your paragraphs, but rather, your text should be left justified.

CLOSED PUNCTUATION

This style is perhaps the least used and is not recommended for use in the modern letter. It places a period after the date and a comma after each line on the inside address except the last line. The same punctuation is used in the signature block. Closed punctuation has no punctuation after the salutation and closing, in the address and after abbreviations.

The President of the United States,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Bush:

Sincerely yours,

STANDARD/MIXED PUNCTUATION

This style is commonly used. A colon follows the salutation, and a comma follows the complimentary close. I suppose that 'mixed' punctuation is the middle way between these. I believe that there is a considerable difference of opinion on whether and which situations are used.

- For conforming to a decision made at phone
- For asking certain particular information
- For writing suggestions
- It should establish a system of accountability.

TYPES OF MEMOS

There are four types of memos. These are as follows:

- Information memo
- Problem-solving memo
- Persuasion memo
- Internal memo proposal

• INFORMATION MEMO

It is used to deliver or request information or assistance. Its first paragraph provides the main idea. Its second paragraph expands on the details. Its third paragraph outlines the action required.

• PROBLEM-SOLVING MEMO

It suggests a specific action to improve a situation. Its first paragraph states the problem. Its second paragraph analyzes the problem. Its third paragraph makes a recommendation. It includes not only the positive details but also the drawback of the matter.

• PERSUASION MEMO

It is used to encourage the reader to undertake an action. Its first paragraph begins with an agreeable point. Its second paragraph introduces the idea. Its third paragraph states benefits to the reader. Its fourth paragraph outlines the action required. Its fifth paragraph ends with a call to action.

• INTERNAL MEMO PROPOSAL

It is used to convey suggestions to the management. Its first paragraph states the reason for writing. Its second paragraph outlines the present situation and states the writer's proposal. Its third paragraph describes the advantages. Its fourth paragraph mentions and diffuses disadvantages. Its fifth paragraph ends with a call to action.

ADVANTAGES OF A MEMO

Due to its various advantages, memos are widely used in most organizations. It is a handy means of communication within an organization. It performs different functions. It has a significant number of advantages. These are as follows:

• SIMPLE

First of all, it should be mentioned that memos are very simple in form and easy to use. It establishes a system of accountability.

• ESTABLISH ANSWERABILITY

As memos are records of facts and decisions, they establish accountability.

✓ FORMAT OF APPLICATION

The Principal, _____

Govt. College, _____

(City) A.B.C. _____

Subject _____

Sir, _____

(Body) _____

Date:

روز	تاریخ	سال
15	06	2021

Yours sincerely,

Name _____

SAMPLE FOR AN APPLICATION

This application can be used for any job.

The Principal,

Govt. College for Boys,

Faisalabad.

Subject: Application for the post of _____

Sir,

This is in response to your advertisement in "The Pakistan Times" for the post of _____, that I submit my application. I feel confident that I possess the required qualifications and experience. I would be highly grateful to you if you kindly consider me for appointment against this post. It is brought to your kind notice that I am an _____ from University of the Punjab, Lahore. I enjoy good health. I bear a good moral character and conduct.

It is also brought to your kind notice that now-a-days I am working as _____. This is, however, a temporary post. Hence, I want to get a permanent job. I would be highly grateful to you if you kindly favour me with an interview.

(My C.V. and attested copies of my documents are enclosed.)

Yours obediently,

Name A.B.C.

Therefore, some organizations prefer to use memos even for small events and requests than telephone/verbal communication. It is used to make a record of policies or decisions.

③ TIME SAVING

As memos are written in very brief form, it saves valuable time. It takes less time to write a memo.

④ SPECIFIC

Perhaps the essential advantage of a memo is that it is to the point. Only the main message is written very briefly in a memo. It enables the office to maintain good business relationships.

⑤ RAPID

Memos ensure a quick and smooth flow of information in all directions. With memos exchanges, the busy executives and employees can interact with each other without disturbing their routine.

⑥ LESS COSTLY

Memos are also cost-saving. It is written in simple papers and can be transmitted very cheaply. Because of its hand to hand circulation within the organization, it is low-cost means of communication.

⑦ USEFUL

It is valuable and convenient to write and read the memo, as all heading like data, person etc., are usually printed in a standardized format. Memos take comparatively less time for writing, transmission and reading than letters. Thus, a memo plays a beneficial role in an organization.

⑧ NO FORMALITIES

No formality is maintained in a memo. Salutation and complimentary closing are also avoided form in a memo.

DISADVANTAGES OF A MEMO

As memos are used within an organization, their scope is limited. There are some limitations which are as follows:

① LIMITED SCOPE

The major demerit of memo is that its scope is limited. A memo cannot provide detailed information.

② LACK OF SECRECY

In the case of the memo, secrecy is not maintained. Thus secret messages cannot be transmitted through memos.

③ UNSUITABLE FOR EXTERNAL COMMUNICATION

Another shortcoming of memo is that it cannot use it for external communication.

✓ COVER LETTER

A cover letter is an essential part of the job search process. This letter introduces you and your resume, explaining both your reasons for writing and your qualifications for the positions. The cover letter should be typed in business format and printed on the same colour and quality of paper as your resume.

✓ WHY IS A COVER LETTER IMPORTANT?

A cover letter is essential because it explains your resume in more depth and is the first impression a hiring manager has of you. Employers use cover letters to narrow down the applicant pool and choose the candidates they want to interview. While some jobs require a cover letter and others make it optional, applicants will put in the extra effort.

✓ TYPES OF COVER LETTERS

There are four general categories of cover letters:

① APPLICATION COVER LETTER

It is the most common type of cover letter and is used to apply for a job. This traditional style includes details about your professional experience related to the requirements of the job post.

② REFERRAL COVER LETTER

A referral cover letter is also used when applying for a job but mentions a current employee who referred you to the open position. A referral can help you stand out during the hiring process. Hiring through the referral process is often more accessible, less expensive and more effective than job sites for employers.

③ LETTER OF INTEREST

A letter of interest is a cover letter used to inquire about job openings at a company you want to work at. A company may not have job postings up but may still be looking for qualified individuals. This type of cover letter takes the initiative to let the hiring manager know your interest in working with them.

④ VALUE PROPOSITION LETTER

A value proposition letter is a summary that explains what makes you unique, such as your skills, accomplishments and the value you can add to a company. This short cover letter is usually used as a resume summary statement or as an answer for "tell me about yourself" style interview questions.

⑤ PROSPECTING COVER LETTER

The prospecting cover letter is formatted much like the application letter. The only differences occur in the opening. The body might change slightly based on the

1 CONTACT INFO

- Name
- Address (or City, State with zip code)
- Phone number
- Email address

2 GREETING

- Whenever possible, address the hiring manager by name.

3 OPENING

- Why are you reaching out?
- What interests you about the company?

4 BODY (1 PARAGRAPH)

- Who are you?
- What skills do you have that could help the company in general?
- What have you accomplished in your career that could be of interest to the company?

5 CLOSING

- Allow your personality to shine through.
- Reiterate your interest.
- Mention any attachments.
- Use a professional sign-off like "Best" or "Sincerely" before your full name.

PROSPECTING COVER LETTER

Joe Jobscan
1234 Resume Ln.
Anytown, WA55555
jjobscan@jobscan.co

Nancy,

Clearly state why you are writing

I was hoping to learn more from you about potential employment opportunities currently open at iHeartResumes. Based on what I already know about the company, iHeartResumes' customer service and company culture are a couple of things that interest me the most.

Share relevant skills

As a resume writing expert, I've won many hats but am most passionate about my successes in various client-facing positions. I have helped more than 250,000 job seekers navigate the resume writing process and facilitated more than one million scans at Jobscan. Additionally,

I appreciate your time and look forward to seeing if I am a good fit for a position at iHeartResumes. If you do have any current openings, feel free to hang on to my resume (attached) and contact me in the future.

Sincerely,
Joe Jobscan

⑥ NETWORKING COVER LETTER

The networking cover letter, being different in purpose than the first two, keeps only the contact info and closing the same.

① CONTACT INFO

- Name
- Address (or City, State with zip code)
- Phone number
- Email address

② GREETING

- Can be more casual than the other cover letter greetings if you have a relationship with the person.

③ OPENING

- Why are you reaching out? Do you want referrals? Recommendations?
- What kind of job/company interests you?

④ BODY

- What skills and accomplishments should they be aware of to help you out?
- What do you hope to accomplish in your next position?

⑤ CLOSING

- Allow your personality to shine through.
- Reiterate your interest.
- Mention any attachments.
- Your sign-off can be more casual.

NETWORKING COVER LETTER

Joe Jobscan
1234 Resume Ln.
Anytown, WA 55555
jjobscan@jobscan.co

Hi Bill,

Conversational Tone

I hope all is well. I'm reaching out about potentially meeting to gather some insights from you as a top professional in our field.

List Skills and Accomplishment

As you know from our time working at ResumesRock, I have always enjoyed working in client-facing positions. Most recently, I have helped job seekers navigate the resume writing process, facilitating more than one million scans at Jobscan.

I'm currently looking for a new career venture, ideally with the ability to work one-on-one with job seekers, since I enjoy the personal element of helping others.

If you have time to talk or grab a cup of coffee, that would be great. Otherwise, I'd appreciate your feedback.

Best,
Joe Jobscan

③ NETWORKING COVER LETTER

The networking cover letter, being different in purpose than the first two, keeps only the contact info and closing the same.

① CONTACT INFO

- Name
- Address (or City, State with zip code)
- Phone number
- Email address

② GREETING

- Can be more casual than the other cover letter greetings if you have a relationship with the person.

③ OPENING

- Why are you reaching out? Do you want referrals? Recommendations?
- What kind of job/company interests you?

④ BODY

- What skills and accomplishments should they be aware of to help you out?
- What do you hope to accomplish in your next position?

⑤ CLOSING

- Allow your personality to shine through.
- Reiterate your interest.
- Mention any attachments.
- Your sign-off can be more casual.

NETWORKING COVER LETTER

Joe Jobscan
1234 Resume Ln.
Anytown, WA 55555
jjobscan@jobscan.co

Hi Bill,

Conversational Tone.

I hope all is well. I'm reaching out about potentially meeting to gather some insights from you as a top professional in our field.

List Skills and Accomplishment

As you know from our time working at ResumesRock, I have always enjoyed working in client-facing positions. Most recently, I have helped job seekers navigate the resume writing process, facilitating more than one million scans at Jobscan.

I'm currently looking for a new career venture, ideally with the ability to work one-on-one with job seekers, since I enjoy the personal element of helping others.

If you have time to talk or grab a cup of coffee, that would be great. Otherwise, I'd appreciate your feedback.

Best,

THE BASIC ELEMENTS OF A COVER LETTER

GREETING

Identify the person who is likely to make the hiring decisions. Address your cover letter to the proper person. It may require originality and firmness, but the benefits will outweigh the time and effort. You may need to make several phone calls to learn the contact's name, correct spelling and title.

OPENING

Write a personable and inviting opening paragraph highlighting how your skills are a perfect fit for the job. An appropriate opening will undoubtedly impress the employer.

ACHIEVEMENTS

Highlight your past achievements as they relate to the job you are applying for. A cover letter that shows how your skills and experience relate to the specific position is more effective than a generic "all-purpose" cover letter.

SKILLS

Highlight additional relevant skills, such as computer languages or certifications. Make sure you demonstrate how your skills, expertise and past accomplishments can benefit the employer. It is your opportunity to make yourself more attractive to the employer by showing that you have something the employer can use.

- Explain your special skills.
- Describe your personality or strengths.
- Give a sample of your language skills.

CLOSE

Briefly recap your strengths as a candidate, and include your contact information. It must have the applicant's full address, E-mail and cell no.

YOUR SIGNATURE

How you sign your cover letter will depend if you're sending a paper or email letter. If you're sending a paper letter, type your name after the salutation, leaving a space for your handwritten signature. If you're sending an email cover letter, type your name and contact information after your salutation.

John Doe

Project Manager

Ms. Doris Johnson
Human Resources Manager
Optimal Workplace Inc. 321
Employment Avenue
Sydney, Australia
5 June 2019

Dear Ms. Johnson,

As a highly skilled project manager with 11 years of experience, I am writing to express my interest in the project manager position at your company. My experience aligns well, as I have worked in project management for several years with a prominent retailer, and I know I would make a valuable addition to your team.

After working for over a decade in project management, I have advanced knowledge in developing scopes, keeping projects moving, submitting deliverables on time, and ensuring a seamless experience for all parties involved. Moreover, while my previous position afforded me a well-rounded skillset, including excellent relationship building and time management skills, I excel at:

- Outlining project scopes, managing timelines, and deadlines.
- Tracking and reporting on overall progress.
- Managing daily operations and implementation of new programs.
- Forecasting project revenue and ensuring all goals are met.

In addition to my experience and relationship-building experience, I have a solid educational foundation and a passion for furthering projects that build loyalty and, in turn, grow revenue for your organization. I would much appreciate the opportunity to contribute to your ongoing growth and continued success.

Please review my attached application for additional details regarding my expertise and achievements. Do not hesitate to reach out if you have any questions or need further clarification on my experience. I would love to meet with you and discuss this position in detail.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
John Doe

Novoresume.com

CURRICULUM VITAE

CV demonstrates your professional and academic achievements, depending on your education, experience and accomplishments. A CV can range in length from 2-10 pages or more. A Curriculum vitae is a brief account of a person's education, qualification and previous occupations, typically sent with a job application.

This word is frequently seen in conjunction with vitae; a curriculum vitae (Latin for "course of (one's) life") is "a short account of one's career and qualifications prepared typically by an applicant for a position" - in other words, a resume. Curriculum vitae is abbreviated CV and is pluralized as curricula vitae.

CV: A summary of a job applicant's professional experience and educational background and other relevant information regarding the candidate's qualifications. (The curriculum vitae is similar to a resume but is used more frequently by candidates who have published works in journals) such as scientists or academic professionals.

IMPORTANCE OF A GOOD CV Read and creativity

Your CV tells potential employers who you are, what you have done in life, and provides them with information about your education and work experience. Your CV is the first chance you get to make a good impression on a potential employer. A top-quality CV will considerably boost your chance of getting a face-to-face interview, so it is worth spending time and effort on the content and presentation. It will make all the difference in obtaining the position you want. You must therefore highlight your skills, expertise and value.

Make sure that you are concise and accurate. Your CV should not generally be longer than two pages, so make sure that you tailor it specifically to the job you are applying for and include the skills, qualifications, and experience most acceptable for the job. An employer will want to find this information in your CV.

TYPES OF CURRICULUM VITAE

The format of your CV is just as important as the information you put in it. Forms are also crucial in capturing the recruiter or hiring manager's attention. Different CV formats highlight various aspects of your professional skills and accomplishments. There are three main types of CV formats:

Each CV format has a specific purpose and highlights different parts of the candidate's professional history. These are three main types of CV formats:

- 1 The Chronological CV
- 2 The Functional CV
- 3 The Hybrid (Combination) CV

1 THE CHRONOLOGICAL CV

A chronological CV focuses on presenting the candidate's experience on an employer-by-employer basis, with the posts being listed in reverse chronological order.

Chronological CVs should also contain a brief personal statement at the front, which sets out the candidate's essential skills and strengths.

It is the most common type

THE FUNCTIONAL CV

A chronological CV, a functional CV emphasises your skills and expertise rather than the chronology of your employment to date.

Although most recruiters do not generally choose, some senior executive positions require that a functional CV be a chronological one. Their key skills and achievements can be clearly identified.

Its emphasis is on your skills and expertise.

THE HYBRID (COMBINATION) CV

A combined CV follows both the chronological and functional format, making the CV slightly longer than usual. However, it offers the best of both types of CV and is becoming a more popular structure.

CHARACTERISTICS OF CURRICULUM VITAE

Following are characteristics of curriculum vitae:

PERSONAL DETAILS

Include your name and address, a phone number, and your email address. You may also add your nationality, gender and date of birth if you wish, but they are not obligatory.

- Name, address, email address, cell phone
- Date of birth
- Marital status and children

EXAMPLE

Name	: Naeem Raza Chaudhary
Date of birth	: 15-09-1983
Marital Status	: Single
Nationality	: Pakistani
CNIC	: 33100-7652103-3
Address	: Ch. house Street No. 2 Umer Garden Faisalabad.
	Tel: Cell: +92 300 663 48 44
Email	: Naeem999@yahoo.com

PERSONAL PROFILE

It is optional, but it can be very effective in summarizing your areas of expertise and characteristics. It is good to include your enthusiasm about working as a Legal Secretary and what motivates you about the industry. Use keywords and keep it brief and concise.

KEY SKILLS

Include any skills you have learnt, such as secretarial or IT skills. Explain what you think your skills are.

- List relevant software and computer programs that you have mastered.
- And also, state your skill level.

EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

Start with your current or last employer and work backwards. List the position or title and the duration of your work in that position or job. You should include the dates of employment, job title and name of the employer, nature of business, responsibilities, duties, tasks, achievements. Try not to leave gaps in your employment history. If you do, it is advisable to account for such times.

Give examples of your work successes and achievements.

- You can also list your work tasks and areas of responsibility as keywords.
- What your unique skills and experiences are.
- Your areas of expertise.

EDUCATION AND QUALIFICATIONS

Write in chronological order a brief list of school, college and university qualifications, such as GCSEs, A levels, etc., together with the grades you obtained. Then list any further qualifications you have received, together with the names of the awarding bodies. When you include the Legal Secretaries Diploma, make sure you studied through the Institute of Legal Secretaries and Pas. If you are currently looking for a qualification, mention it together with any results achieved so far.

- Begin with your most recent education.
- Your vocation or the name of the faculty/field you studied should be included—the name of the educational institution, when your studies began and when you graduated.
- STAR technique should be used. Here star stands for situation, task, action and result.

Situation	What was the situation and when?
Task	What were the objectives and aims?
Action	What was it that you did to achieve these?
Result	What was the end of the result? What did you learn?

INTERESTS AND HOBBIES

It is optional but gives you a chance to portray something about your personality. Please keep it simple, mention what you do in your free time and note any achievements. Ensure that your interests reflect your personality and who you are; if you are interested in film, music or travelling, you should also mention this.

- Leisure activities tell potential employers something about your personality.
- This section should be as short as possible.
- It will help the employer what type of person you are.

REFERENCES

Most employers want references from previous employers or from other people who know you. A former employer or reference person should confirm the information stated on your CV and on the job application form or state that you will provide references if needed and upon request. You can also give a list of references or reference letters during the job interview.

Reference persons may include previous/ present employers, colleagues, trade union

people who have trained you. It would help if you did not use friends as references unless you have no other choice. It would help if you always asked whether that person is willing to provide a reference for you. You can also ask what they plan to say about you. Be somewhat critical about whom you list as a reference. It is essential to select reference persons familiar with your work history and intend to say something positive about you.

- List reference persons by name, include their job title and telephone number
- You should always provide at least two references
- Employers are most interested in references from recent jobs or positions.
- The employer usually contacts the reference person that you have completed the interview and informs them about the job or work you are applying for to prepare for potential employer calls.

METHOD OF CURRICULUM VITAE

LENGTH, LAYOUT AND FORMAT

Presentation, as well as content, is essential. There is no set way in which to present your CV, but the following advice should be noted:

- Limit your CV to one or two pages
- Use standard font types and sizes
- Use the same font type on the CV as you used on the application
- Use good-quality paper
- Be clear and concise
- Highlight headings so that they stand out
- Use bullet points for focusing on key points rather than large blocks of text
- Check your spelling and grammar
- Use a confident tone and positive language

Employers can receive many CVs for a job advertised, so it is essential to create a good impression to attract their attention. Most people do not spend as much time on their CV as they should, so you will stand out from the rest if you write a professional, high-quality CV. Members of the Institute can receive help with improving their CVs. We will make sure that it is of a high standard to have the best chance of securing employment. If you are a member of the institute and are looking for work, please e-mail your CV.

THE PURPOSE OF CV

A Curriculum Vitae (CV) details all your academic credentials and professional accomplishments and is used for seeking faculty jobs as well as for applying for academic postdoctoral research opportunities, grants and fellowships. The purpose of the CV is to interest a committee in interviewing you.

It is very important to have a covering letter to support your CV. Moreover, a covering letter should be sent along with CVs.

FORMAT OF CURRICULUM VITAE

Name: A.B.C
 Father's name: A.B.C
 Date of birth: 21-01-1985
 Nationality: Pakistani
 Religion: Islam
 Domicile: Dist. Lahore, Pakistan
 Marital status: Single
 Address: Examination Hall,
 Contact No: 0123456789
 C.N.I.C.No. 03211231235
 Facebook: abc.facebook.com

ACADEMIC QUALIFICATIONS

Exam	Year	Division	Institution
Matric	2004	1st	Divisional Public School Faisalabad
F.A./F.Sc.	2006	1st	Govt. College Lahore
B.A./B.Sc.	2008	1st	Govt. College Lahore
M.A./M.B.A	2010	2nd	University of the Punjab, Lahore

Scholarships:

Matric: Merit Scholarship
 F.A. Or F.Sc: Merit Scholarship
 B.A. Or B.Sc: Quaid-e-Azam-Scholarship
 Distinction: Third Position in B.A. from
University of the Punjab, Lahore
 Experience: 2 years as
 Extra-curricular activities: (a) Member college cricket team
(b) Member college debating society
(c) Took part in debate competition
 Hobbies: Reading newspapers & literary books
 Reference: On Request

✓ COVER LETTER

A cover letter is an essential part of the job search process. This letter introduces you and your resume, explaining both your reasons for writing and your qualifications for the positions. The cover letter should be typed in business format and printed on the same colour and quality of paper as your resume.

✓ WHY IS A COVER LETTER IMPORTANT?

A cover letter is essential because it explains your resume in more depth and is the first impression a hiring manager has of you. Employers use cover letters to narrow down the applicant pool and choose the candidates they want to interview. While some jobs require a cover letter and others make it optional, applicants will put in the extra effort.

✓ TYPES OF COVER LETTERS

There are four general categories of cover letters:

① APPLICATION COVER LETTER

It is the most common type of cover letter and is used to apply for a job. This traditional style includes details about your professional experience related to the requirements of the job post.

② REFERRAL COVER LETTER

A referral cover letter is also used when applying for a job but mentions a current employee who referred you to the open position. A referral can help you stand out during the hiring process. Hiring through the referral process is often more accessible, less expensive and more effective than job sites for employers.

③ LETTER OF INTEREST

A letter of interest is a cover letter used to inquire about job openings at a company you want to work at. A company may not have job postings up but may still be looking for qualified individuals. This type of cover letter takes the initiative to let the hiring manager know your interest in working with them.

④ VALUE PROPOSITION LETTER

A value proposition letter is a summary that explains what makes you unique, such as your skills, accomplishments and the value you can add to a company. This short cover letter is usually used as a resume summary statement or as an answer for "tell me about yourself" style interview questions.

⑤ PROSPECTING COVER LETTER

The prospecting cover letter is formatted much like the application letter. The only differences occur in the opening. The body might change slightly based on the

⑥ NETWORKING COVER LETTER

The networking cover letter, being different in purpose than the first two, keeps only the contact info and closing the same.

① CONTACT INFO

- Name
- Address (or City, State with zip code)
- Phone number
- Email address

② GREETING

- Can be more casual than the other cover letter greetings if you have a relationship with the person.

③ OPENING

- Why are you reaching out? Do you want referrals? Recommendations?
- What kind of job/company interests you?

④ BODY

- What skills and accomplishments should they be aware of to help you out?
- What do you hope to accomplish in your next position?

⑤ CLOSING

- Allow your personality to shine through.
- Reiterate your interest.
- Mention any attachments.
- Your sign-off can be more casual.

NETWORKING COVER LETTER

Joe Jobscan
1234 Resume Ln.
Anytown, WA 55555
jjobscan@jobscan.co

Hi Bill,

Conversational Tone

I hope all is well. I'm reaching out about potentially meeting to gather some insights from you as a top professional in our field.

List Skills and Accomplishment

As you know from our time working at ResumesRock, I have always enjoyed working in client-facing positions. Most recently, I have helped job seekers navigate the resume writing process, facilitating more than one million scans at Jobscan.

I'm currently looking for a new career venture, ideally with the ability to work one-on-one with job seekers, since I enjoy the personal element of helping others.

If you have time to talk or grab a cup of coffee, that would be great. Otherwise, I'd appreciate your feedback.

Best,
Joe Jobscan

John Doe

Project Manager

Ms. Doris Johnson
Human Resources Manager
Optimal Workplace Inc. 321
Employment Avenue
Sydney, Australia
5 June 2019

Dear Ms. Johnson,

As a highly skilled project manager with 11 years of experience, I am writing to express my interest in the project manager position at your company. My experience aligns well, as I have worked in project management for several years with a prominent retailer, and I know I would make a valuable addition to your team.

After working for over a decade in project management, I have advanced knowledge in developing scopes, keeping projects moving, submitting deliverables on time, and ensuring a seamless experience for all parties involved. Moreover, while my previous position afforded me a well-rounded skillset, including excellent relationship building and time management skills, I excel at:

- Outlining project scopes, managing timelines, and deadlines.
- Tracking and reporting on overall progress.
- Managing daily operations and implementation of new programs.
- Forecasting project revenue and ensuring all goals are met.

In addition to my experience and relationship-building experience, I have a solid educational foundation and a passion for furthering projects that build loyalty and, in turn, grow revenue for your organization. I would much appreciate the opportunity to contribute to your ongoing growth and continued success.

Please review my attached application for additional details regarding my expertise and achievements. Do not hesitate to reach out if you have any questions or need further clarification on my experience. I would love to meet with you and discuss this position in detail.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
John Doe

Novoresume.com

CURRICULUM VITAE

CV demonstrates your professional and academic achievements, depending on your education, experience and accomplishments. A CV can range in length from 2-10 pages or more. A Curriculum vitae is a brief account of a person's education, qualification and previous occupations, typically sent with a job application.

This word is frequently seen in conjunction with vitae; a curriculum vitae (Latin for "course of (one's) life") is "a short account of one's career and qualifications prepared typically by an applicant for a position" - in other words, a resume. Curriculum vitae is abbreviated CV and is pluralized as curricula vitae.

CV: A summary of a job applicant's professional experience and educational background and other relevant information regarding the candidate's qualifications. (The curriculum vitae is similar to a resume but is used more frequently by candidates who have published works in journals) such as scientists or academic professionals.

IMPORTANCE OF A GOOD CV Read and creativity

Your CV tells potential employers who you are, what you have done in life, and provides them with information about your education and work experience. Your CV is the first chance you get to make a good impression on a potential employer. A top-quality CV will considerably boost your chance of getting a face-to-face interview, so it is worth spending time and effort on the content and presentation. It will make all the difference in obtaining the position you want. You must therefore highlight your skills, expertise and value.

Make sure that you are concise and accurate. Your CV should not generally be longer than two pages, so make sure that you tailor it specifically to the job you are applying for and include the skills, qualifications, and experience most acceptable for the job. An employer will want to find this information in your CV.

TYPES OF CURRICULUM VITAE

The format of your CV is just as important as the information you put in it. Forms are also crucial in capturing the recruiter or hiring manager's attention. Different CV formats highlight various aspects of your professional skills and accomplishments. There are three main types of CV formats:

Each CV format has a specific purpose and highlights different parts of the candidate's professional history. These are three main types of CV formats:

- 1 The Chronological CV
- 2 The Functional CV
- 3 The Hybrid (Combination) CV

1 THE CHRONOLOGICAL CV

A chronological CV focuses on presenting the candidate's experience on an employer-by-employer basis, with the posts being listed in reverse chronological order.

Chronological CVs should also contain a brief personal statement at the front, which sets out the candidate's essential skills and strengths.

It is the most common type

THE FUNCTIONAL CV

A chronological CV, a functional CV emphasises your skills and expertise rather than the chronology of your employment to date.

Although most recruiters do not generally choose, some senior executive positions require that a functional CV be a chronological one. Their key skills and achievements can be clearly identified.

Its emphasis is on your skills and expertise.

THE HYBRID (COMBINATION) CV

A combined CV follows both the chronological and functional format, making the CV slightly longer than usual. However, it offers the best of both types of CV and is becoming a more popular structure.

CHARACTERISTICS OF CURRICULUM VITAE

Following are characteristics of curriculum vitae:

PERSONAL DETAILS

Include your name and address, a phone number, and your email address. You may also add your nationality, gender and date of birth if you wish, but they are not obligatory.

- Name, address, email address, cell phone
- Date of birth
- Marital status and children

EXAMPLE

Name	: Naeem Raza Chaudhary
Date of birth	: 15-09-1983
Marital Status	: Single
Nationality	: Pakistani
CNIC	: 33100-7652103-3
Address	: Ch. house Street No. 2 Umer Garden Faisalabad.
	Tel: Cell: +92 300 663 48 44
Email	: Naeem999@yahoo.com

PERSONAL PROFILE

It is optional, but it can be very effective in summarizing your areas of expertise and characteristics. It is good to include your enthusiasm about working as a Legal Secretary and what motivates you about the industry. Use keywords and keep it brief and concise.

KEY SKILLS

Include any skills you have learnt, such as secretarial or IT skills. Explain what you think your skills are.

- List relevant software and computer programs that you have mastered.
- And also, state your skill level.

EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

Start with your current or last employer and work backwards. List the position or title and the duration of your work in that position or job. You should include the dates of employment, job title and name of the employer, nature of business, responsibilities, duties, tasks, achievements. Try not to leave gaps in your employment history. If you do, it is advisable to account for such times.

Give examples of your work successes and achievements.

- You can also list your work tasks and areas of responsibility as keywords.
- What your unique skills and experiences are.
- Your areas of expertise.

EDUCATION AND QUALIFICATIONS

Write in chronological order a brief list of school, college and university qualifications, such as GCSEs, A levels, etc., together with the grades you obtained. Then list any further qualifications you have received, together with the names of the awarding bodies. When you include the Legal Secretaries Diploma, make sure you studied through the Institute of Legal Secretaries and Pas. If you are currently looking for a qualification, mention it together with any results achieved so far.

- Begin with your most recent education.
- Your vocation or the name of the faculty/field you studied should be included—the name of the educational institution, when your studies began and when you graduated.
- STAR technique should be used. Here star stands for situation, task, action and result.

Situation	What was the situation and when?
Task	What were the objectives and aims?
Action	What was it that you did to achieve these?
Result	What was the end of the result? What did you learn?

INTERESTS AND HOBBIES

It is optional but gives you a chance to portray something about your personality. Please keep it simple, mention what you do in your free time and note any achievements. Ensure that your interests reflect your personality and who you are; if you are interested in film, music or travelling, you should also mention this.

- Leisure activities tell potential employers something about your personality.
- This section should be as short as possible.
- It will help the employer what type of person you are.

REFERENCES

Most employers want references from previous employers or from other people who know you. A former employer or reference person should confirm the information stated on your CV and on the job application form or state that you will provide references if needed and upon request. You can also give a list of references or reference letters during the job interview.

Reference persons may include previous/ present employers, colleagues, trade union

people who have trained you. It would help if you did not use friends as references unless you have no other choice. It would help if you always asked whether that person is willing to provide a reference for you. You can also ask what they plan to say about you. Be somewhat critical about whom you list as a reference. It is essential to select reference persons familiar with your work history and intend to say something positive about you.

- List reference persons by name, include their job title and telephone number
- You should always provide at least two references
- Employers are most interested in references from recent jobs or positions.
- The employer usually contacts the reference person that you have completed the interview and informs them about the job or work you are applying for to prepare for potential employer calls.

METHOD OF CURRICULUM VITAE

LENGTH, LAYOUT AND FORMAT

Presentation, as well as content, is essential. There is no set way in which to present your CV, but the following advice should be noted:

- Limit your CV to one or two pages
- Use standard font types and sizes
- Use the same font type on the CV as you used on the application
- Use good-quality paper
- Be clear and concise
- Highlight headings so that they stand out
- Use bullet points for focusing on key points rather than large blocks of text
- Check your spelling and grammar
- Use a confident tone and positive language

Employers can receive many CVs for a job advertised, so it is essential to create a good impression to attract their attention. Most people do not spend as much time on their CV as they should, so you will stand out from the rest if you write a professional, high-quality CV. Members of the Institute can receive help with improving their CVs. We will make sure that it is of a high standard to have the best chance of securing employment. If you are a member of the institute and are looking for work, please e-mail your CV.

THE PURPOSE OF CV

A Curriculum Vitae (CV) details all your academic credentials and professional accomplishments and is used for seeking faculty jobs as well as for applying for academic postdoctoral research opportunities, grants and fellowships. The purpose of the CV is to interest a committee in interviewing you.

It is very important to have a covering letter to support your CV. Moreover, a covering letter should be sent along with CVs.

FORMAT OF CURRICULUM VITAE

Name: A.B.C
 Father's name: A.B.C
 Date of birth: 21-01-1985
 Nationality: Pakistani
 Religion: Islam
 Domicile: Dist. Lahore, Pakistan
 Marital status: Single
 Address: Examination Hall,
 Contact No: 0123456789
 C.N.I.C.No. 03211231235
 Facebook: abc.facebook.com

ACADEMIC QUALIFICATIONS

Exam	Year	Division	Institution
Matric	2004	1st	Divisional Public School Faisalabad
F.A./F.Sc.	2006	1st	Govt. College Lahore
B.A./B.Sc.	2008	1st	Govt. College Lahore
M.A./M.B.A	2010	2nd	University of the Punjab, Lahore

Scholarships:

Matric: Merit Scholarship
 F.A. Or F.Sc: Merit Scholarship
 B.A. Or B.Sc: Quaid-e-Azam-Scholarship
 Distinction: Third Position in B.A. from
University of the Punjab, Lahore
 Experience: 2 years as
 Extra-curricular activities: (a) Member college cricket team
(b) Member college debating society
(c) Took part in debate competition
 Hobbies: Reading newspapers & literary books
 Reference: On Request

③ NETWORKING COVER LETTER

The networking cover letter, being different in purpose than the first two, keeps only the contact info and closing the same.

① CONTACT INFO

- Name
- Address (or City, State with zip code)
- Phone number
- Email address

② GREETING

- Can be more casual than the other cover letter greetings if you have a relationship with the person.

③ OPENING

- Why are you reaching out? Do you want referrals? Recommendations?
- What kind of job/company interests you?

④ BODY

- What skills and accomplishments should they be aware of to help you out?
- What do you hope to accomplish in your next position?

⑤ CLOSING

- Allow your personality to shine through.
- Reiterate your interest.
- Mention any attachments.
- Your sign-off can be more casual.

NETWORKING COVER LETTER

Joe Jobscan
1234 Resume Ln.
Anytown, WA 55555
jjobscan@jobscan.co

Hi Bill,

Conversational Tone.

I hope all is well. I'm reaching out about potentially meeting to gather some insights from you as a top professional in our field.

List Skills and Accomplishment

As you know from our time working at ResumesRock, I have always enjoyed working in client-facing positions. Most recently, I have helped job seekers navigate the resume writing process, facilitating more than one million scans at Jobscan.

I'm currently looking for a new career venture, ideally with the ability to work one-on-one with job seekers, since I enjoy the personal element of helping others.

If you have time to talk or grab a cup of coffee, that would be great. Otherwise, I'd appreciate your feedback.

Best,

THE BASIC ELEMENTS OF A COVER LETTER

GREETING

Identify the person who is likely to make the hiring decisions. Address your cover letter to the proper person. It may require originality and firmness, but the benefits will outweigh the time and effort. You may need to make several phone calls to learn the contact's name, correct spelling and title.

OPENING

Write a personable and inviting opening paragraph highlighting how your skills are a perfect fit for the job. An appropriate opening will undoubtedly impress the employer.

ACHIEVEMENTS

Highlight your past achievements as they relate to the job you are applying for. A cover letter that shows how your skills and experience relate to the specific position is more effective than a generic "all-purpose" cover letter.

SKILLS

Highlight additional relevant skills, such as computer languages or certifications. Make sure you demonstrate how your skills, expertise and past accomplishments can benefit the employer. It is your opportunity to make yourself more attractive to the employer by showing that you have something the employer can use.

- Explain your special skills.
- Describe your personality or strengths.
- Give a sample of your language skills.

CLOSE

Briefly recap your strengths as a candidate, and include your contact information. It must have the applicant's full address, E-mail and cell no.

YOUR SIGNATURE

How you sign your cover letter will depend if you're sending a paper or email letter. If you're sending a paper letter, type your name after the salutation, leaving a space for your handwritten signature. If you're sending an email cover letter, type your name and contact information after your salutation.

1 CONTACT INFO

- Name
- Address (or City, State with zip code)
- Phone number
- Email address

2 GREETING

- Whenever possible, address the hiring manager by name.

3 OPENING

- Why are you reaching out?
- What interests you about the company?

4 BODY (1 PARAGRAPH)

- Who are you?
- What skills do you have that could help the company in general?
- What have you accomplished in your career that could be of interest to the company?

5 CLOSING

- Allow your personality to shine through.
- Reiterate your interest.
- Mention any attachments.
- Use a professional sign-off like "Best" or "Sincerely" before your full name.

PROSPECTING COVER LETTER

Joe Jobscan
1234 Resume Ln.
Anytown, WA55555
jjobscan@jobscan.co

Nancy,

Clearly state why you are writing

I was hoping to learn more from you about potential employment opportunities currently open at iHeartResumes. Based on what I already know about the company, iHeartResumes' customer service and company culture are a couple of things that interest me the most.

Share relevant skills

As a resume writing expert, I've won many hats but am most passionate about my successes in various client-facing positions. I have helped more than 250,000 job seekers navigate the resume writing process and facilitated more than one million scans at Jobscan. Additionally,

I appreciate your time and look forward to seeing if I am a good fit for a position at iHeartResumes. If you do have any current openings, feel free to hang on to my resume (attached) and contact me in the future.

Sincerely,
Joe Jobscan